What Types of Information Do We Collect?

Cookies

Cookies are small data files that are sent from a website to your computer or mobile phone. They are stored on the hard drive of your device. Some are stored just for the duration of your visit to the website, others are stored for much longer periods. We use cookies to make our website better for you. By using Camp Quality's websites, you consent to our use of cookies.

Cookies include:

- information about your interaction with the site, for example, when you view or search content; and
- IP addresses, browser type, language, operating system, mobile device information (including device identifiers), the referring web page, pages visited, and location.

Information of this type ('Cookies') is anonymous and does not personally identify you but is helpful for us to improve the business performance and user experience of the site.

Personal Information

Personal information is information that can be used to identify you. It can include your name, date of birth, email address, postal address and telephone number.

In order for you to interact with the site, we require you to provide us with information that personally identifies you ('Personal Information'). We collect your Personal Information so that we can complete your donation or transactions:

- in accordance with legislation requiring us to gather certain information about charitable donors; and to issue receipts, tickets and, if required, an Authority to Fundraise; and
- your registration with the site for participation in related activities such as charitable fundraisers, competitions and promotions.

If you do not want your name to be publicly associated with your donation, please choose the "Anonymous" function when completing the donation form. Your name will always be passed on to the fundraiser you are supporting and to Camp Quality; unless you have made an anonymous donation, in which case, your name will only appear in their secure account area. Please also note that your donation amount and any comments will still be visible on the public site pages, however, your name will be shown as "Anonymous".
